

First IIRC approved Introductory Level Integrated Reporting (IR) Training in Pakistan

CSRCP in collaboration with BSD the first foundation partner of the International Integrated Reporting Council (IIRC) presents introductory level IR training in Pakistan.

CSRCP has been actively playing its role in promotion of sustainable practices and non-financial reporting in Pakistan through consultancy, trainings, assurance and research since 2010. CSRCP is Certified Training Partner of GRI in Pakistan, Gold Community Member of GRI and GRI's official data partner for Pakistan. To promote the emerging reporting practices, CSRCP has partnered with BSD Consulting to offer integrated reporting trainings in Pakistan.

BSD Consulting was founded in May 1998, in Switzerland, based on awareness that the economic power of business can substantially trigger sustainable development in society. Over the years, BSD Consulting expanded its activities, aggregating different offices in four continents, and was accredited as a partner and training organization by global organizations such as Social Accountability International (SAI), Global Reporting Initiative (GRI) and International Integrated Reporting Council (IIRC).

Program benefits and value

Integrated Reporting is the next phase in the evolution of corporate reporting. The process that began with the requirement to report on sustainability (along with the traditional history of financial reporting) has now reached its next natural phase - linking financial performance to sustainable development.

Integrated Reporting is crucial in understanding and communicating the links between sustainability strategies and investment decisions. Integrated Reporting leads to:

- Better decision making within an organization
- Effective disclosures for investors
- Improved communication for an organization's stakeholders

At the conclusion of the training, participants will be able to:

- Present the business case for the introduction of Integrated Reporting, including integrated thinking, to an organization.
- Explain the fundamental concepts of value creation, the capitals, and the value creation process.
- Describe the requirements of the International <IR> Framework.
- Describe the factors which contribute to successful implementation of Integrated Reporting, including integrated thinking, within an organization.
